Nineteen Forty-Eight

Foreword

Four warm, friendly years we have worked together. Now we move on, regretfully yet eagerly, along the many and divergent paths that will lead us to our places in the world. But always in the years to come we will be held together by the cherished memories of the experiences we have shared at M. H. S.

It is our hope that the pages of the TOWER, turned frequently as the years go by, will keep these precious memories burnished and bright.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

THE pages that follow portray the life of Manhasset High School. A school, unlike Topsy, does not just grow. It is the product of the dreams and toil of many men and women, the citizens of a community and their elected representatives, the Board of Education. So, to our parents, neighbors, and Board of Education, we express our thanks for the four years of high school life we picture here.

JUNIOR HISTORY

IF a class has athletic ability, dramatic ability, journalistic ability and excellent students it may be considered a well-rounded group. But what is it that makes a class outstanding? A class that makes contributions to the betterment of the school as a whole is the class that leaves more than a lingering impression.

Does this year's junior class have all these traits? For the first time in history. M. H. S. has a store in which to buy school supplies, such as paper, pencils and erasers. This original idea was thought of by the juniors. They must also receive credit for alleviating the situation in the fifth period lunch. During September, October, and November, hungry students had to wait in line for twenty-five minutes, teachers were inconvenienced, and the cafeteria staff was overburdened. Under the leadership of Derry Kruse and Ann Fincke the juniors established a sandwich-milk bar, which split the students into two quickly moving lines. In Student Congress the junior representatives are always in the midst of any lively debate that is taking place. Turner Austin almost always had his name in the bulletin. The Junior Ring Committee was again well organized and little time was taken in selecting the favorite ring. The chairman of the committee was Turner Austin.

Scholastically the Juniors rate very well. Derry Kruse while leaving an Algebra exam was heard to say, "How could I throw all those points away? How could I? When asked about his grade Derry replied in anguished tones, "Ninety-eight."

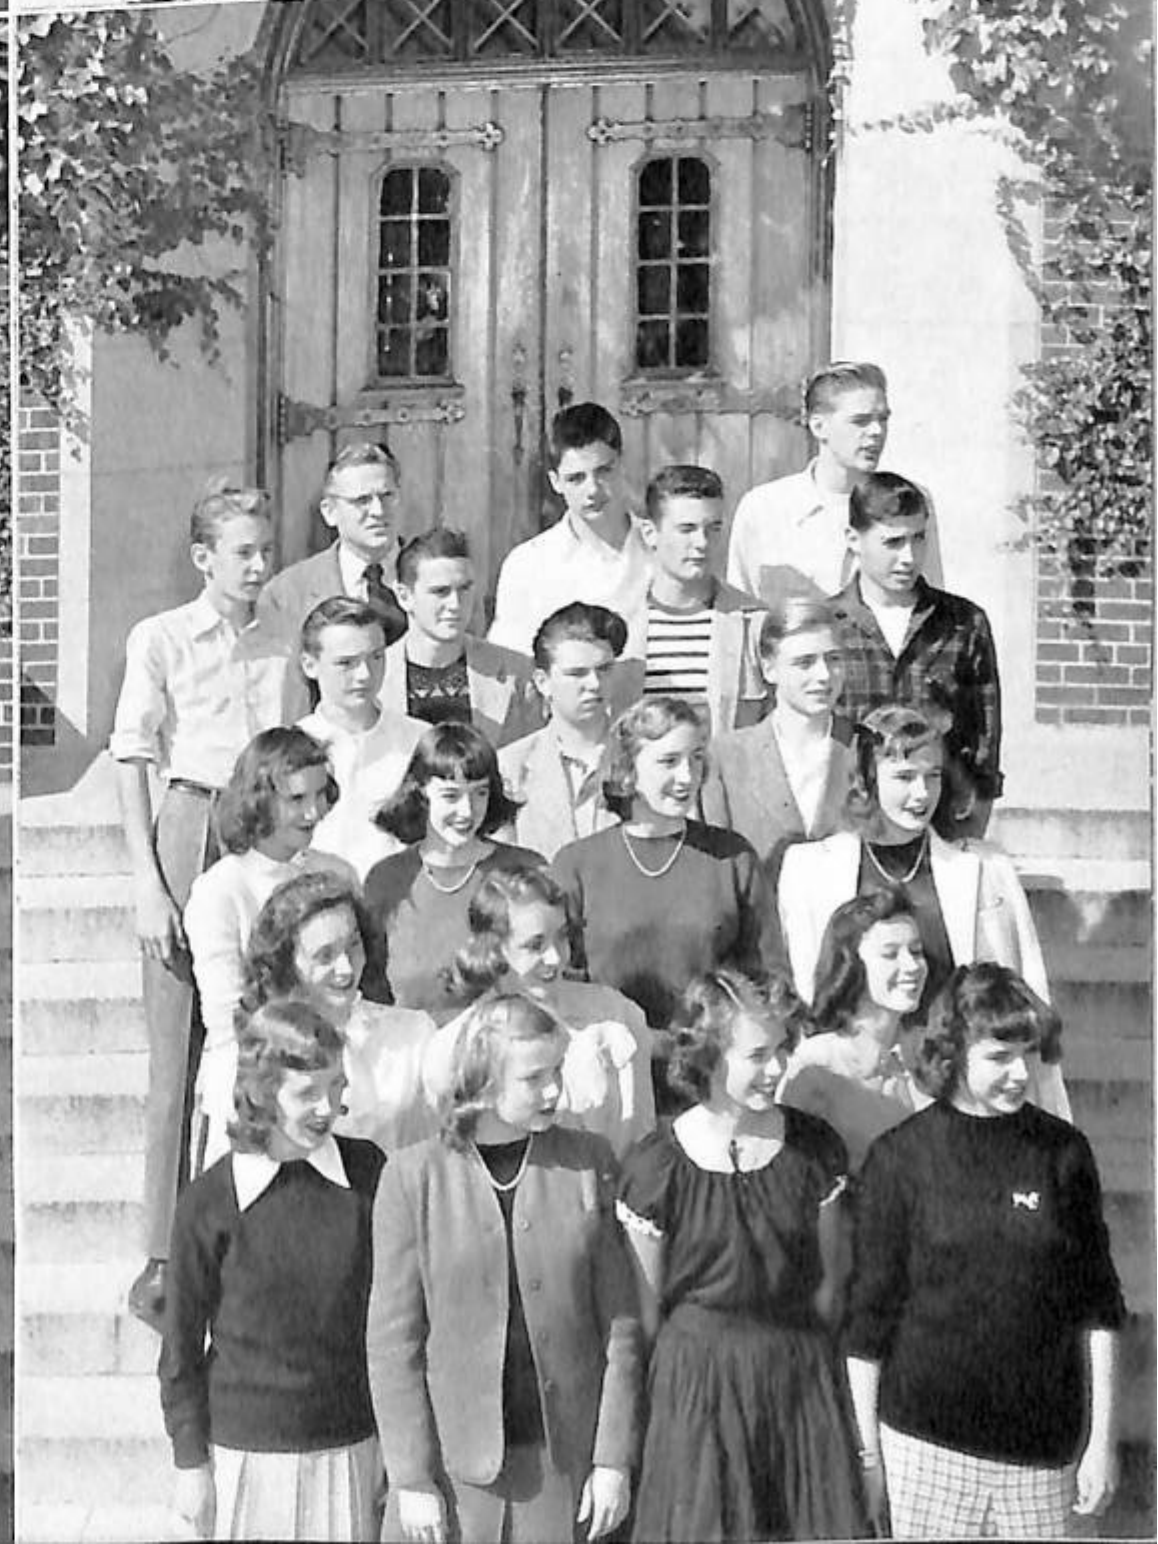

Nancy Barrow, Alice Cleaver, and Glenn Riggs are also regularly acquiring those A's that are so elusive to the majority of us.

In athletics Donald Stearns and Hugh Kitchner were outstanding in football, and Derry Kruse, Ed Vogler and Chuck Frame in soccer. On the basketball team such stalwarts as Turner Austin, Dick Finaly, Ed Vogler, and Jack Diefendorf saw action. As the lacrosse and baseball seasons started the juniors were always eager to take their laps around the field.

As for the feminine side of the picture, such gals as Lucia Thwaites and Ann Fincke were outstanding in basketball. In hockey, a rough form of football and lacrosse, Ginny Thompson and Rita Schmorrr were first rate.

The juniors are talented in other fields also. Who could forget the piano playing of Don Payne, or the ability of Alice Cleaver in the dramatic club's fall production, "My Sister Eileen." Everyone has noticed at one time or another the excellent art work of Hugh Kitchner. What more can be said for these Juniors?

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

IN the fall of 1948 a monumental event will occur in the world and in Manhasset; a new Junior class will be inaugurated. The sophomores are looking forward (some with pleasure and others with misgivings) to their Junior year at M.H.S. The faculty which annually listens with awe to the vast stories of wisdom that the Sophomores pour forth is again preparing for a short vacation. Latin II and Plane Geometry are things of the past and new fields (Latin III and Solid Geometry) await the ambitious students.

This year's Sophomore class is an extremely versatile one, having outstanding personalities in many activities. Judy Ludlum and Mary Lee Robinson were instrumental in forming the "Y-Teen" club which is a junior branch of the Y.W.C.A. The purpose of this organization is mainly to supply recreation, but also to engage in such activities as sending clothes and books to Europe.

"Hello you lucky people." Ah yes! It's Gordon Willis beginning one of his popular, impromptu announcements. Gordon, besides being the leading humorist of the class, was master of ceremonies at the Senior Prom. In the fall dramatic production Dot Young had an outstanding role while Emily Pitkin, Joan Sturcke and Anna Redding worked on the production staff.

In athletics Jim Barnard, Joe Gschwind, Doug Collet, and Nick Cuneo may not be ready to meet Notre Dame but do well in their own class. Each is outstanding in his respective position on the football team. In basketball, who could forget the long set shots of Tom Fleming, the one handers of Jim Boyd, and the rebound work of Doug Collett. In baseball and Tennis Sophomore participation is not lacking. Don Bayher pitching and Gordon Willis catching is an up and coming battery on the baseball diamond. Robbie Dealy will be the number one man on the tennis team this year and can ably fill the spot vacated when Bob Barker graduated last year.

Joan Auch is the outstanding feminine athlete, competing ably in both field hockey and basketball. Mary Jane Martin and Sue Wheat play on the honor basketball team and many sophomores made the Reserve team.

The class has a number of adept students including Dick Roberts, John Hackeling, Mildred and Margaret Lange, Joan Auch and Judy Shumway (who won her masters degree on the French II project). Joe Gschmind, Carol Braznell, Sue Wheat and Doret Wellman all took awards at the annual art contest at Gertz's in Jamaica.

The most concrete evidence of the ability of the class again was displayed by the Soph Hop. This year's class gave the traditionally successful dance some new features and we are looking to the future for more accomplishments.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

CAN you remember back to last September, when the clan of rosy-cheeked youngsters was walking around the halls, asking how to get from room 12 to room 21, or to the cafeteria? Or that Freshman boy that someone sent to find a "Sky-Hook"? Well they are now one school year wiser and they are preparing to become Sophomores. From all indications some high standards will be set by next year's Sophomore class.

This year's class made an auspicious entry into the High School. In the fall dramatic production, "My Sister Eileen", Mrs. Hansen learned that she has some excellent actors and actresses in the Freshman class that she would be able to count on in the future. John Ratti gave an excellent performance as the drugstore manager in one of the play's major roles. John Burrows, as the policeman, also gave a sparkling performance. Cynthia Frytag and Carl Iddings also had acting roles.

"The Balcony," Freshman paper for the past two years, was continued with Dick Payne editor-in-chief, Bebe Maron Art Editor and Betsy Fincke the Business Manager. Although only two issues were put out valuable experience was gained by all who participated in the writing, business management, and editing.

The annual Freshman Dance was a big success and the class worked hard on decorations, refreshments, and entertainment for the occasion. Money for the dance was collected by the selling of stationery. More stationery would undoubtedly have been sold if the Freshman had not been so generous at the auction when the students bought the little read hat for $150.

If there had been any doubts as to the scholastic ability of the Freshman, they were soon dispelled. Students such as Cynthia Lane, Barbara Tracy, Dick Kline, and Ted Gutman having acquired A's in their first year subjects, are determined to conquer Mr. Kifner and Plane Geometry. The class artistic talent is found in Dick Payne and Dick Clark who won prizes in the art contest sponsored by Gertz's of Jamaica.

The Freshman have high hopes of bettering Manhasset's athletic record. Their football team surpassed the varsity's record of one tie by winning three games. For the first time in recent years Freshman monopolized the positions on the J.V. basketball team. Albert Rainson, Teddy Alves, Dick Warren and Pete Watts have the ability, but experience is still lacking. Although they were tied by the eighth graders 4-4, the Freshman girls can still retain some pride in their athletic ability. Madge Mezey, Diane Aspinall, Bunny Walker and Vaughn Peters will star on future hockey teams and Marilyn Wittchen are already playing reserve basketball.

Other highlights are: The time when Ione Carbonara won the contest to select a name for the English Club magazine by entering "The Penpoint"; the motions of Jack White and Bill Wagner in Student Congress; psychic Jean Wilsy (The money in "Minnie"); and the competition given the upperclass girls by Kathie McDowell, Betsy Fincke, Doris Voltman and Gay Davis.

SPRING

IN looking forward to spring (will it ever come?) we remember last year, when we were only mere juniors, and the Class of '47 lorded it over us—remember the sports? the plays? the dances? Well, let's go back and see. Manhasset lacrosse players won four games and tied the Sewanhaka champions 5-5 in a fast battle, but even so, the Indians were in fourth place at the end of the season. It seems we won the wrong games.

In baseball, our luck was even worse. Our keystone combination, Frank Simmons and Junie Gibbs, were occupied with eye trouble and an appendectomy, and we finished the season with four games won to eleven lost. MHS, like the Dodgers, was "waiting 'til next year."

Our track team? Wonderful! Well, maybe not the whole team, but Stan Smiley, a junior, broke the North Shore meet record, and it seemed that the only person who could beat him was a senior of Malverne High, and maybe Gil Dodds. And since the senior graduated and Dodds was busy elsewhere, Stan was our candidate for champion runner of his senior year.

A new interscholastic sport came to MHS last spring. It was easy to find boys who had played tennis before, and one of them had played with the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association and won all matches played. This sport may become as important as baseball and lacrosse in Manhasset, for it offers both individual and team playing. Two of our best players were Bob Barker and Warren Zorbaugh.

At the tenth annual Sportsnight, the Orange team, led by Erskine Forgy, defeated the Rocking-B cowgirls, led by Connie Cooper. The Orange became Knights of old with orange shields and went through intricate marching and formations, while the Blue came in as cowboys of the Rocking-B Ranch. After watching the girls tumbling, rolling and falling on the floor, the judges gave their decision in favor of the Orange, 58 to 42.

Iroquois in the final intra-mural event of the year, a track meet open to all boys. The score was $46\frac{1}{2}$ to $37\frac{1}{2}$. The Mohawks had already won the championship by winning in softball. The year's totals were Mohawks, 5; Iroquois, 2.

In the flower decorated gym the Class of '48 presented its Junior Prom in spite of the cookie shortage. Drusilla Ely was elected Princess of the Prom and was crowned by Peter Mezey; since Madeline Miller, head of the Prom, was also a contestant for the title. Peter was responsible for the sandwich signs and photographic posters to advertise the dance.

"Poor Aubrey", presented by the Dramatics Group, was hilariously funny. Ken Nichoson was a very pompous Aubrey and Pat Pickering a long-suffering wife. Aubrey tried so hard to remain young, and found out that his toupee had slipped after his guests had gone! Poor Aubrey!

The Music Department gave a combined concert under Mr. Webster's direction. Some of the soloists were Don Payne, Frank de Leeuw, John Moghtader, Jane Peters, and Ruth Boyd. The concert was given to show the students what the Music Department was doing.

Near the end of the year we discovered that Bruce Nichols had received a percentile rating of 99.6 in the National Honor Society Scholarship Contest. Ah, to have brains!

At the last G.O. dance of the year, the results of the G.O. election were announced. The new officers were Ken Nichoson, president; Jack Diefendorf, vice-president; Caryl Carter, secretary of the G.O.; Mary Zlamal, treasurer; Ruth Garrick, secretary of Student Congress; and Paul Lopez, head of Proctors. Almost the last thing we remember of last year was the use of a voting machine lent to the school by the Nassau County Election Board.

Soon another year at MHS will be gone, and some of us will be in college, while others will start earning a salary. We only hope that the future will be as happy for us as these four years of high school have been, and that the class of 1948 will be as good seniors as we have tried to be.

FALL

"SCHOOLS strike! Students no longer required to attend! Vacation continued to next summer!" We all saw these headlines in our last frantic summer dreams, but soon found ourselves walking down the familiar classic halls and occupying our worn seats in assembly.

The main topic of discussion to us seniors was the many strange—some very strange—new freshman faces. We just couldn't have been that small and green-looking, ever! We concluded that they must be growing differently lately, and left it at that.

Speaking of new young faces, our attention, male and female, soon was drawn to three of our new teachers: Miss Bilko, in the home-ec department; Mr. Wax, in shop; and Mr. Ganley in social studies.

Other things found under the "new" column were the driver education classes, Mr. Wulff's return from the army to head visual aids, and our favorite expression, "What's the matter, you new?"

Getting settled and putting our noses to the grindstone took the usual length of time, while "Raffy" caught up with those who conveniently "forgot" which class was next. With the grind came football season, renewal of activities, class elections, and various other extraordinary things with which a student occupies himself.

Football season, with its cheerleaders, hot dogs, and hoarse voices, was off to a hopeful start. However, our enthusiasm was dampened slightly by mounting disabilities. Dave Dewey, scheduled to be a key man, was soon knocked out with a bad leg, much to our dismay, while Ceb Benisch, after starting us with his agility and speed when switched from end to half-back, was disabled, and spent part of the season on crutches. Dick "Slippery Hips" Bergesen, also out for a while with a bad shoulder, nevertheless put in a fine season, running up a good percentage of our yardage. Bob Pitkin, who played quarterback, did good passing to Jack Wright, catcher of the pigskin and only touchdown hero. Back with the team we had Dick Troiano, Dave Ross, Charlie Lowe, Jack Jaegar, Wally Cook, and Bob Landgraf.

At most of the games, the TOWER staff sold refreshments with a smile, and a "Hey, wait for your change!" Another new idea was the night games, the first of which we will never forget because the lights shorted and the game was called off.

Naturally, some of our football stars became candidates for office when class elections started, and we all worried our teachers to distraction by loudly supporting our favorites in the middle of class. When the final results were out, we found Ceb Benisch, Stan Smiley, John Fritz, Dick Kroeck holding offices for the seniors; Hugh Kitchener, Turner Austin, Lucia Thwaites, Dave Lundell, holding the junior offices; Bill Lang, Don Bayer, Emily Pitkin, Joan Auck, holding the sophomore offices; Dick Clark, Kathie McDowell, Marilyn Wittschen, and Joel Hamilton holding the freshman offices. Notice the fact that the seniors had four boys in office for the fourth consecutive year!

Other elections found Warren Zorrough assistant editor of the Tower, Pat Bancker business manager, and John Fritz assistant business manager, to assist Manuel Holguin, who had been elected editor-in-chief the previous spring. Janet Munnecke headed the Honorary Dramatics Group, and Peter Mezey was made chairman of the Discussion Club. The girls chose Caryl Carter to head the GAC, Lucia Thwaites assistant head, Boots Baurenfeind secretary, Jo Stein assistant secretary, and Drucie Ely head of posters and publicity. Ruth Garrick and Marilyn Myers were elected heads of the Blue and Orange Teams.

Boots also led our new drum majorettes, who march with the band. We never counted how many times they dropped their batons, but what did it matter, when they strutted so beautifully!

Soon the soccer season got under way with a backbone from last year's team, Manny Holguin, Frank Simmons, Bob Kyle, Jack Houseworth, and many new players. Even then, losing Fred Franz to football was a strain on the team.

Along with the soccer season came intramural speedball and soccer. The two teams, Mohawk and Iroquois, led by Dave Dewey and Tyler Dann, were again fighting for the honors in fall sports. The Iroquois took the speedball title, but an insufficient turnout hindered both soccer teams.

The girls, not to be outdone, had a full hockey season, with the honor and reserve teams playing eight games each and the frosh, one. Lucia Thwaites, one of the best defensive players, showed a skill equal to that of any opponent. The high point of the season came with the Roslyn game. The field was a mass of mud, water holes placed at strategic places. The final game looked like a combination of skiing and water polo, but it was so much fun that the girls played an overtime half. Good way to get a mud pack free!

Tyler Dann won the tennis trophy by defeating Pete Mezey 6-1 and 6-0, and Stan Smiley brought us honor by breaking two two-and-one-half-mile records. At Bethpage State Park he finished first out of one hundred and twenty-five runners.

After the fall sports began, the girls—and boys too—turned to domestic activities. Two new clubs, the 3:25 Club for girls and the Bachelors Club for boys, were formed by Miss Bilko. The boys made ice cream and hamburgers, while the girls, led by Ruth Bostick, president, Ann Yourman, vice president, Beverly Fowle, secretary, and Elaine Burton, treasurer, went on to greater triumphs, such as casseroles and cakes.

When the Student Congress representatives were elected and the Council was ready for work, the legislative branch of the G.O. was soon functioning as usual. We found that Congress would meet every other Tuesday during first period — later the time was changed to every Wednesday. At the first meeting Tyler Dann was elected to head the Pupil Activities Committee, while Alden Fiertz was chosen to be chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee. They immediately set to work on plans for checking vandalism, for installing new bleachers in the gym, and for other projects.

Congress gave Mr. Metzger's seventh period class permission to take the project of relieving unnecessary confusion in the fifth period lunch line, and so Derry Kruse, Ann Fincke, and Alice Cleaver were busy every day selling sandwiches, ice cream, and milk at a special table beside the cashier.

The Council formed two more standing committees: the Public Relations Committee, headed by Conrad Kohlheyer, and designed to be an executive publicity committee to handle all unassigned publicity, and to act as a liaison between the school and the community; and the Service Committee, headed by Bob Kyle, which is an executive committee to handle all drives and campaigns. The Red Cross Drive was one of the first under this new committee, taking the form of an auction in the morning assembly. Dave Huschle, the auctioneer, had carefully prepared packages recommended for certain people in the audience.

But soon the prices started going up and up—$1, $2.50, $5.00, $7.50—all the way to $150—cash! This last amount was for a little red hat with a big feather—paid for by a pool of money from the pockets of students from all classes. The historic hat may be seen on exhibit in the MHS trophy case. such valuable showpieces inside! Thus Miss Westervelt and her Service Committee got a fine start in their work, and the students showed school spirit that had been despaired of so long.

Speaking of school spirit, the year began with a bang. Half of the student body was shot for lack of that commodity. With rallies, pep talks, and lectures from the teachers, the question of school spirit seemed more like a special inquiry in Congress. Every student was subject to the question, "Do you have school spirit, hmmm?"

programs at the football games. The English Club, sponsored by Mr. Dawson, was organized to stimulate interest in literature among the students. After the election of Neil Ries as president, the club met at the homes of various members on Thursday nights. They made plans for a literary magazine, after electing John Moghtader editor. A prize was given for the best title suggestion, "The Pen Point," offered by a freshman, of all things! The Discussion Club, sponsored by Mrs. Hanson, has debated with other schools on subjects of national and international interest. "Should We Have a World Government?" was the topic for the first debate with Garden City. Ken Nichoson and Caryl Carter took the negative for Manhasset, while Alice Cleaver and Warren Zorbaugh took the affirmative. Neither side won the debate, but we decided that although a world government wasn't practical at present someday we must have one. More of these debates were planned for later in the year.

Visual Aids was organized at the beginning of the year by Mr. Wulff. Gordon Pugh was elected president, and the members were scheduled to take charge of the projection booth and the stage.

More proctors were chosen by last year's Junior proctors early this year. Dick Bergesen, Gene Lipscomb, Ruth Montgomery, Ken Bonn, Pete Mezey, Warren Zorbaugh, Manuel Holguin, Tony Fisher, John Fritz, Alden Fiertz, and Dick Kroeck were soon seen in the halls with the other proctors, calling wayward freshmen—and seniors back into line.

Accompanied by the strains of "I'm a ramblin' wreck from Georgia Tech" and feminine shrieks at John Fritz's shorts, the rehearsals for "My Sister Eileen" began. Elimination was first made by judging the student's ability to Conga and speak Portuguese, for if you were lacking in these talents, the only part you could hope for was a walk-on with no lines. Qualifications for the boys ran from having sturdy legs to fill the "Wreck's" shorts, to having a realistic Greek accent, which Gordon Kirschner developed for the part of Mr. Appopolus. When the tryouts were over, the cast was headed by Barbara Slauson and Pat Pickering as Ruth and Eileen, and included Dick Kroeck, Pete Mezey, John Fritz, Gordon Kirschner, Dot Young, and Alice Cleaver.

All the hard work and late hours paid off when Mrs. Hansen and her crew took the stage on November 21 and 22. Dick Kroeck in his role of Chick Clark, the wolfish reporter, gave the boys a few pointers on how to escape from a girl who had caught on to him, and Gordon Kirschner's accent gave the audience hysteria. As we remember, several students were given artificial respiration later!

Speaking of stage work, many special features were presented in the morning assemblies. Mrs. Van Den Broeck, our new orchestra director, showed us an orchestra we could well be proud of. Among the pieces they played were several that especially appealed to us. "Syncopated Clock" was one of the best. Jerry Smiley and Barry Morell, two well-known alumni, also played and sang for us, and we heard some of the swing band's best music.

At another morning assembly, Ken Nichoson, Pete Mezey, Manuel Holquin, Gene Lipscomb, Barbara Slauson, Caryl Carter, and Rosalinde Bow-

WINTER

"YOU'LL have the time of your life December 20!" With this prophecy Conrad Kolheyer and his publicity committee announced the annual Senior Prom. The theme of the Prom this year was a night club, and the decorations committee, under the chairmanship of Marilyn Myers, turned the gym into "Club '48," where Madeline Miller was elected Queen of the Prom. Pete Mezey, head of the Prom, reported that Conrad's prophecy came true for most people, since the "Club '48" was said to be "the finest Senior Prom ever given at MHS."

Pete was also Editor-in-Chief of the "Cub Reporter," and with the assistance of the five other editors, Conrad Carstens, Caryl Carter, Joan Morris, Dick Iklé, and Janet Munnecke, he put out an eight-page Christmas edition. One of the features of the issue was a page devoted to accounts of Christmases in foreign lands, told by Manfred Walsman (Germany), Marjorie Smith (Aruba), Dagmar Cebe-Habersky (Czechoslovakia), Klaus Brinkman (Austria), and John Tabasso (Italy).

On the day before vacation, the traditional Christmas Pageant was presented to the students. Instead of the choral speaking group used in past years, Barbara Slauson recited the Biblical selections. The tableaux were again shown, preceded by the candlelight procession. Barry Morell, who graduated from MHS in 1945, returned to sing "O, Holy Night" in the choir.

Another annual Christmas event was the Dramatic Group's Christmas party, to which the faculty and those students interested in dramatics were invited. The highlight of the party was the presentation of pins to students who earned at least five points in two phases of dramatic production. Pins were awarded to Gorda Eustace, Neil Ries, John Fritz, Gordon Pugh, Pete Barry, Ken Webster, Conrad Carstens, Ann McGeeny, Sylvia Carstens, Alice Cleaver, and Don Guder.

After vacation we all came back to school with tales of how we survived the "Blizzard of '47."

We couldn't help envying Miss Norian, Miss Scott, and Mrs. Savoya, who acquired tans in sun-warmed Florida while we shoveled snow and froze in our beds in snowbound Manhasset.

Suddenly we began bumping into students mumbling and gesturing wildly at each other about the Bill of Rights! freedom!—heritage! At first we thought of the strain of too much homework—but we later discovered it was only the students entering the American Oratorical Contest. These brave people turned out to be Gordon Kirschner, Chickie Forman, Mary Lee Robinson, Alden Fiertz, Judy Shumway, Sylvia Carstens and Ann McGeeny. This group was finally narrowed down until it included only Mary Lee Robinson, Chickie Forman, and Judy Shumway. Chickie was then selected to represent Manhasset at Roslyn in the Nassau county semi-finals. She was one of the two winners there and went on to participate in the county finals at Malverne High School.

Speaking of the chosen few, those girls who limped about with glowing smiles were the new Junior cheerleaders: Marilyn Craig, Eileen Cowley, Evelyn Kelly, Harriet Powell, Lucia Thwaites, Nancy Barrow, Mary Gwynn Huffard, Ann Fincke, Rita Schmorrr and Janice Wood. All report that it would be a great improvement to install escalators for them—then maybe they wouldn't enter classes with such painful expressions.

This winter's assemblies were surprisingly good. Salom Rizk, one of our best speakers, gave an amusing talk on his struggles to get to America and told us about his book, "Syrian Yankee," $2.50 wherever books are sold. Dr. Alpenfels, a noted anthropologist and professor at NYU, was also one of our speakers. She predicted that men of the future would be bald, whereupon the students began to wonder who of their classmates would be men of the future." Musical programs were also popular this year. Donald Scott-Morrison, concert pianist, played pieces by several composers and dressed in the style of each composer whose works he played. In a Swedish assembly, Dr. Viola Sponberg, Arivid Francen, and Rune Person entertained the School with their songs and stories about Sweden.

The Dramatics Group elected the rest of its officers at a meeting held in January. Don Guder was elected vice-prexy, Neil Ries, secretary-historian, and Ann McGeeney, trustee. The president and the treasurer had been elected in the fall. The group decided to see the play, The Heiress, based on a novel by Henry James. Mr. Sweitzer, who has studied James's works, spoke to the group about the play and its author.

During the months of December and January, Eva Paasche of Norway and Nils Skysgaard of Denmark visited our school as guests of students here. Their trip was arranged by the New York Herald Tribune and the Metropolitan School Study Council, which brought a group of Scandinavian students here for the annual Herald Tribune Forum. The students earned their passage by writing a winning composition on "The World We Want."

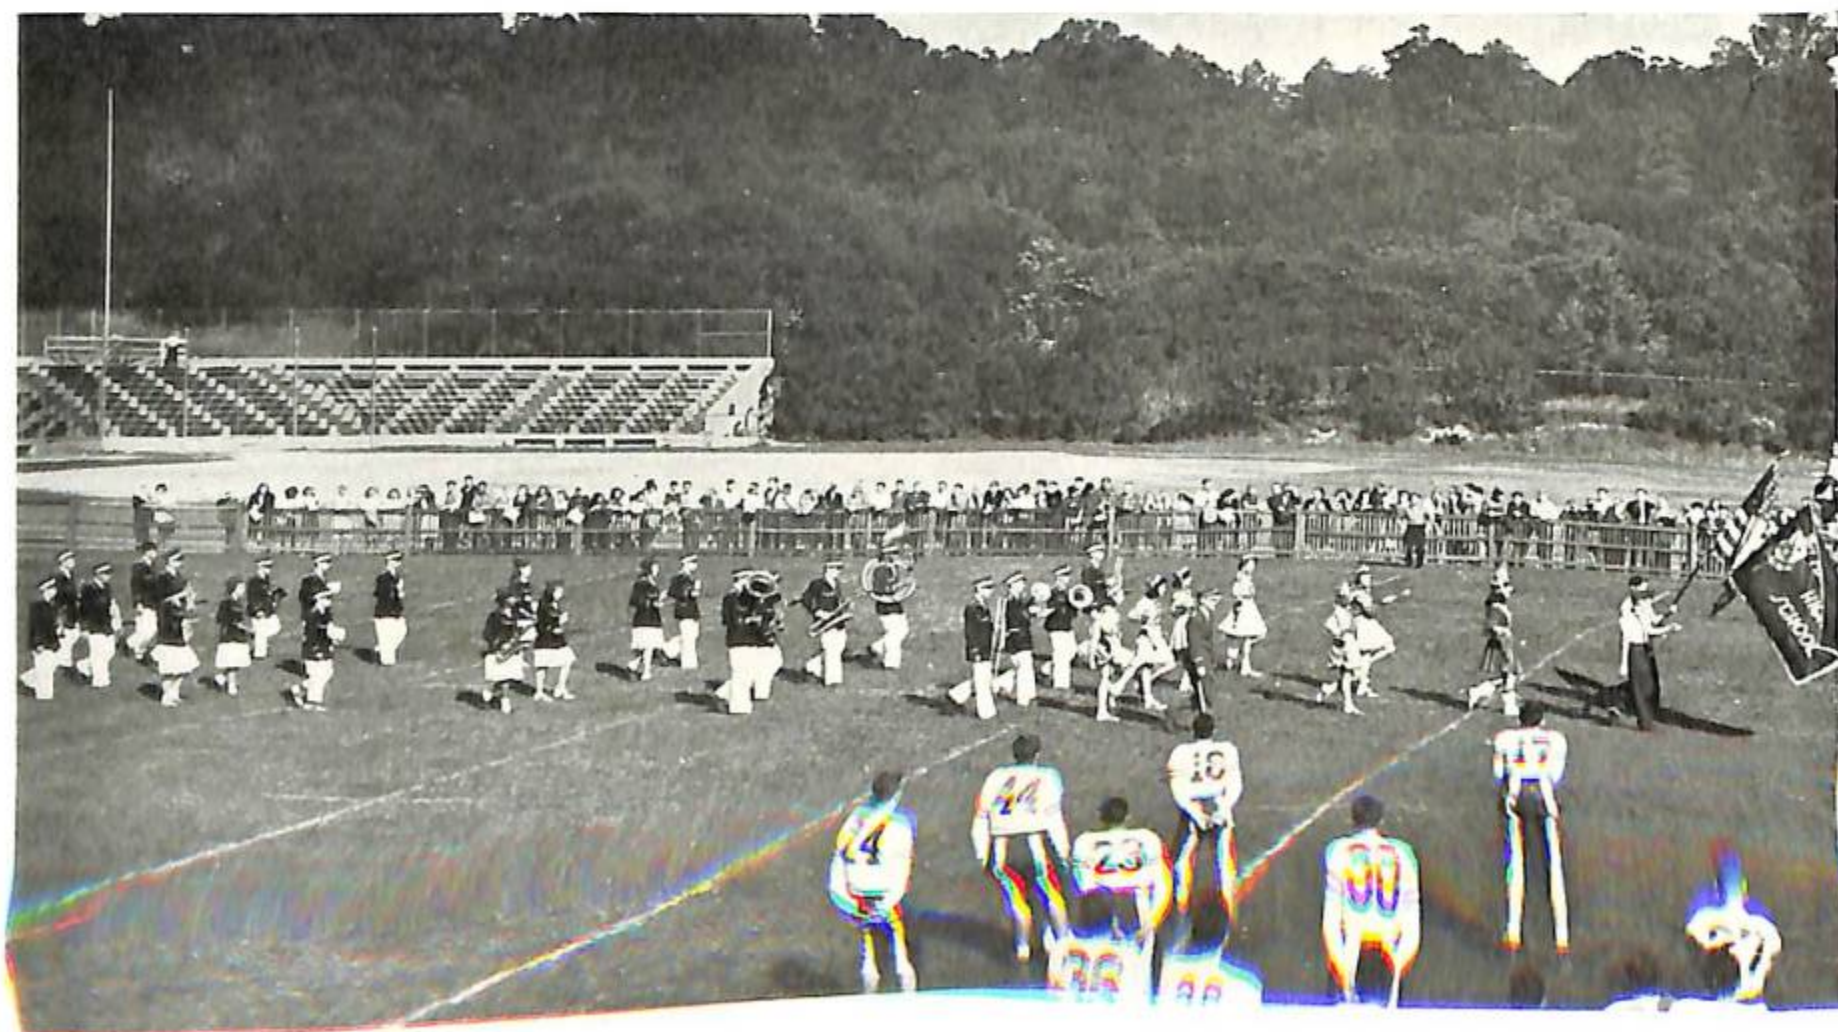

At long last Miss Westervelt's and Mr. Ganley's senior Social Studies classes went to the United Nations. They attended a meeting at Lake Success, where they saw the Security Council in session, and ate in the same dining room with the delegates.

While we discussed international politics we also became interested in the new plan for a judicial branch of the student government being presented to the G. O. Council and the Board of Education. The plan, when completed, will be voted on by the student body as an amendment to the Constitution. Other school plans are those to eliminate final exams or to make them optional, to exchange students with other schools and to amend the constitution to form a new office, that of assistant treasurer, to be elected in the spring with the council. Jane Jablonski was appointed to this office because the treasurer, Mary Zlamal, had too much work.

The Y-teens decided to join the G. O. as was suggested in Student Congress. The officers of the Sophomore chapter, which started the Y-teens in MHS, are Judy Ludlum, president; Judy Shumway, vice-president; Ellen Lieberherr, secretary, and Barbara Hodgkins, treasurer.

In other activities trips were planned—the French club, sponsored by Madame Hare, hope to

This year many students have given up study halls to act as messengers, receptionists, clerical workers, and lab assistants for the various offices and science labs in the school. They answer the phone, tell you to "wait, please," check your report card for forgeries, and collect the absentee slips from the teachers—for the guidance office, the visual aids office and the attendance office.

They even mix the smelly chemicals that "Doc" blows up in our faces and feed Mr. Miller's little white mice (or are they rats?). These students deserve all the credit they get, for they help keep the wheels of the administration running smoothly.

Suddenly we find that a new semester has arrived, with our mid-year exams (gulp) and many dizzying changes. Mr. Sweitzer has taken a sabbatical leave of absence to travel and study, while Miss Scott teaches his classes and a new teacher, Mrs. Naudain, teaches Miss Scott's classes. But this was not the end of our confusion, Mrs. Smith, another new teacher, replaces Mrs. Spinka as girls' gym teacher, and Mrs. Savoya resigns after twelve years as librarian, replaced by Miss Hawthorne, who had been overseas as a hostess and service club organizer, and who had formerly taught speech and dramatics in Port Washington.

During the winter sports season, the Manhasset High School basketball team played well in practice but poorly in competition. With Ceb Benisch, Frank Simmons, Ty Dann and Bill Kurth, veterans of the 1946-47 team (which had a fair record of eight victories and nine defeats) still in action, it seemed as if Manhasset would have its first winning season in years.

Right from the start the team was handicapped. Ceb Benisch aggravated a knee injury in the season's opening game with Farmingdale and was sidelined indefinitely. With the loss of its only tall man, little was expected of the team in the non-league contests. In five of the first six games the M. H. S. five took a sound beating by lopsided scores. The only victory was obtained at the expense of a ragged Hicksville outfit by the score of 35 to 32 as Ty Dann scored fourteen points.

At the beginning of league competition, it was hoped that the team would pick up. In the opening contest with our arch-rival, Port Washington, the boys played one of the most exciting games of the season but lost by four points. Frank Simmons led the attack and was high scorer for Manhasset with eleven points.

Then came the game never to be forgotten by the players participating or by the fans. Mineola, the winner of six consecutive games visited our court. In the first half Manhasset played well but Mineola was shooting with sensational accuracy and piled up a 38-26 lead. Back from his injury, Ceb Benisch, along with Dann and Zorbaugh led the team in a concentrated attack which resulted in ten consecutive points to make the score 38-36. Then, after a see-saw battle, in the last exciting minutes the score was raised to 50-46 in favor of Manhasset as Ceb Benisch scored the winning baskets.

In the next game Great Neck defeated the Indians in an important game at Great Neck, and Ceb was again injured two days later in practice. From then on, the team won two and lost five.

Great Neck was defeated on Dick Finaly's foul shot after the game had ended. We defeated Glen Cove, 43-40, in the final game of the season.

Warren Zorbaugh and Frank Simmons led the scoring for the year with 146 and 107 points respectively. Frank also held the individual game high with 20 points.

The Junior Varsity won four games while losing twelve also, but the boys comprising the team, Teddy Alves, Albie Rainson, Dick Warren, Tom Fleming and Mickey Tuccinardi show promise of developing into a tall, smooth-shooting quintet. Albie was the team's high scorer of the year with 105 points.

In girls athletics the picture was more on the bright side. The honor basketball team won three of the four games that it played, losing only to Port Washington, while the reserve team did almost as well. Pat Bancker, Ruth Garrick, and Rosie Culbertson played the forward positions and were the backbone of the team. Lucia Thwaits starred on the defense with her aggressive play throughout the games. Others on the team were Sue Wheat, Gene Lipscomb, Drusilla Ely, Annette Bolin, Betty Dewey, Jane Martin, Sue Wittschiede, and Elaine Burton.

The Annual Senior-Faculty games were again a big success. The male seniors won the basketball game from Manhasset's learned but not so athletic faculty by a score of 42-41. The seniors fell behind early in the game as Doug Barnard and Jack Wright did not seem to be able to score their usual 20 points. Despite questionable tactics by "Zeero" Metzger (this stands for faulty accent and points scored) the seniors started to rally in the second half and overtook the faculty on a one-hand shot by Simmons with one minute to play. Mr. Ganley, playing to the gallery, made a set-shot with 30 seconds to play which put the faculty out in front, 40 to 39. Simmons made a foul shot and the game ended in a 40-40 tie. Although the faculty protested, an overtime was played and the seniors came out victorious as Warren Zorbaugh made a skillful one-hand shot.

The feminine seniors did not fare so well in their game of "broom-ball." They went down to defeat by a score of 4 to 1. It was mainly through the efforts of Mrs. Smith that the faculty acquired an early lead, as she scored two goals. Madame Hare then scored a goal, much to her surprise, and the last hopes of the seniors were crushed. Miss Westervelt did an excellent job as goalie for the faculty. The high morale in the ranks of the winners was undoubtedly due to the cheerleading of Connie Kohlheyer and Dave Huschle. The sight of Dave and Connie in short pants seemed to upset the seniors and they never played up to their capacity.

With an announcement that there would be no Tower assembly this year, Conrad Kohlheyer introduced the Tower movie—Manhasset High's first sound movie—, written, directed and photographed by the students. The film, a satire on "grade B" mysteries, began with a meeting of the Script Writers Committee showing the members (Nancy Alexander, Don Bent, Conrad Carstens, Manuel Holguin, Conrad Kohlheyer, Janet Munnecke, Jim Nickel, Ken Nichoson, and Barbara Slauson) trying to think of a plot for a Tower assembly. As the committee members thought of characters and situations for the script, we left room 14 and the Tower Script Writers Committee to join Tyler Dann in his "library" when Caryl Carter, Stan Smiley, Bea Mulvehill and John Fritz entered. The movie, true to mystery style, included beautiful girls, a searched office, a mysterious gardener, a chase and a lost package.

The cast included Tyler Dann as the old man, Neil Ries as his butler, Caryl Carter as the "beautiful but ruthless" girl, Stan Smiley as the gangster, Bea Mulvehill as the old lady, John Fritz as the politician, Pat Pickering as the maid, Dick Ikle as the gardener, Gene Lipscomb as another beautiful girl, Ken Bonn and Jon Jostyn as two detectives, George Fritschi and Dick Peters as gangsters and, of course, who could forget Dick Kroeck who appeared (with his derby) in every scene as the "mysterious little man."

The movie, directed by Ken Nichoson and written by Janet Munnecke, was photographed by Jim Molinelli. Gordon Pugh took charge of the lighting and sound track which, when synchronized with the movie, made a most unusual assembly.

With two fashion shows produced in our auditorium, the "new look" became the "Manhasset look." The first show, sponsored by the junior class, featured clothes from B. Altman & Company's new Manhasset store. The second, a project by Manhasset's members of R. H. Macy's school board—Marilyn Quinn in the New York store and Gorda Eustace in the Jamaica branch, featured Macy's latest fashions. Lucy Smith helped Gorda and Marilyn with their show by singing during the intermission.

"To have finals or not to have finals" seemed to be the question faced by the faculty as spring drew near. It was finally decided that seniors would be exempt from final exams. It was also happily announced that there were to be no finals in subjects in which there is a regents required.

REFLECTIONS

- of you and your classmates upon your school life achieve immortality in a carefully planned and executed yearbook.

From the arid desert of Arizona, and the sultry green island of Puerto Rico, to the snow-blanketed slopes of Northern New England, we have traveled, happy and proud to have been an instrument in the translating into print, the humor pathos, excitement, and sentiment found in the campus life of over seventy-five colleges and preparatory schools.

- As former members of yearbook staffs in our school days, we bring into our professional duties a real understanding of the many problems confronting each yearbook editor.
